Thank you for expressing an interest in the AoC/LSIS Pre-Employment and/or Employer Responsive pilots.

The pilot will run in four stages.

- On-line self-assessment of your current readiness to undertake this work.
- A brief report based on your answers to the on-line self-assessment. This will include recommendations about actions, including webinars which may be of interest to you
- A series of webinars running in different formats during February and March 2013.
- A small number of follow-up telephone consultancy calls to support you to move forward with your planning and delivery.

We would like to invite you to complete the on-line self-assessment tool now. Please follow the links below and submit your responses by 14th February 2013. We will then provide you with a written report and send you details of webinars which may be of use to you.
