

ILT Training Aurasma

Aim

- To be familiar with various apps and technology that can be used in teaching learning and assessment
- To each go away with a minimum of 1 resource to use in your classes

Technologies covered in session

Nearpod – to deliver interactive multimedia presentations

Aurasma – to launch videos or websites from a picture

Aurasma

Works in a similar way to a QR code but learners need the Aurasma App installed on their device.

Display boards with Aurasma and QR code posters are called Innovation Walls.

Learners scan a picture that has the Aurasma logo on it and the picture launches a video or website.

Aurasma

To create Aurasmas (called Auras) you need an Aurasma Studio account.

We created accounts for each department linked to the e-mail accounts opposite.

Before you create your Aura you need to collect the following:

1) Trigger Image

This is the image that will appear on your poster that learners will scan

2) A video you have created (not more than 2 minutes long)

Or

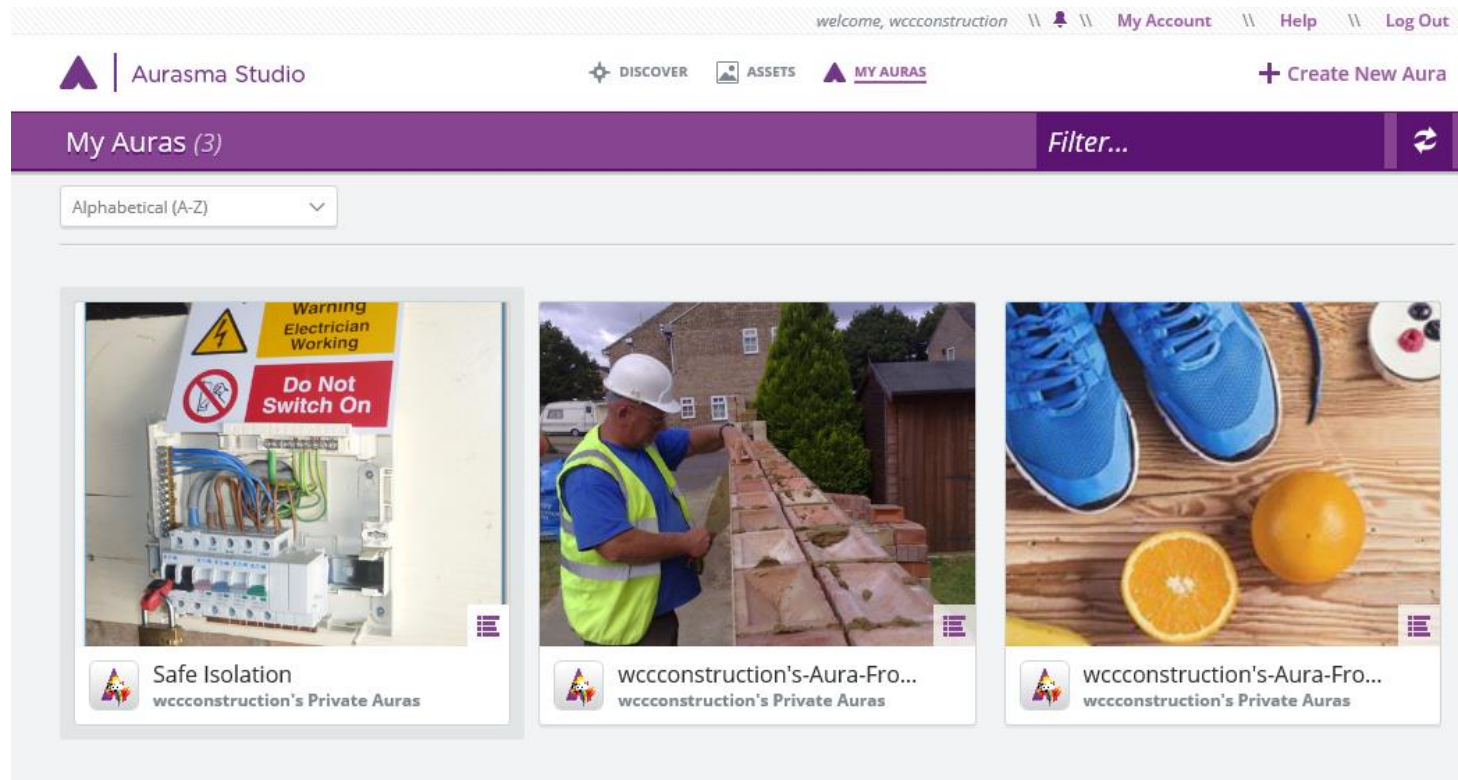

A YouTube video
(any length)

We suggest making a folder to store the images and videos in and a word document with links to YouTube videos.
